

Ben Semple, PLA, Landscape Architect

Partner / Senior Landscape Architect

Ben Semple is a licensed landscape architect with over 14 years of professional experience. During that time, he has performed planning, entitlement, and design for a number of residential and commercial developments, private residences, and various projects throughout Idaho.

Ben's expertise encompasses most major aspects of land development including site planning and design, construction document preparation, coordination with governing and regulatory agencies, and project implementation. His construction oversight experience includes direct management of a number of local commercial and residential installations.

Ben's previous employment with a civil engineering firm has given him a strong foundation in site design and development, especially as it pertains to site grading and drainage, storm water system design, and parking and roadway layout.

Much of his recent experience has involved design, project management, and production and implementation support for phased residential developments, planned communities, commercial and office sites, education facilities, and resorts in the area. Additionally, these projects included coordination with, and public presentation to, community leaders, design team members, and neighborhood residents in order to produce successful projects.
